APPEAL FOR LIFE TO BRYAN

Pestilence Threatens in Mexican Capital From Smallpox

Yaqui Uprisings on West Coast Add to Perplexing Problems

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Philip E. McClary, an American newspaper correspondent at Vera Cruz, has been imprisoned and sentenced to be shot by Carranza authorities for having sent out uncensored news dispatches.

Secretary Bryan received an appeal for aid today from John W. Roberts, another American correspondent there, and instructed Consul Stillman to take the question up at once with General Carranza.

Carranza troops from Tampico are being brought to Vera Cruz and sent inland by rail. Quetz was reported at Progreso, Yaqui Indians, operating in Sonora, are charged with numerous raids and murders. In a recent attack on the ranch of the Richardson Construction company in the Yaqui valley, they were repulsed.

A special train carrying vaccine and other medical supplies was due to leave Vera Cruz today for Mexico City to battle the spread of smallpox. Although, according to the State Department, there is no epidemic of the disease, there have been a number of cases.

McCLARY IS TEXAS MAN.

EL PASO, April 26.—Philip E. McClary, reported under arrest at Vera Cruz, is a resident of El Paso. His relatives here have received word that he was released shortly after his arrest. McClary was in the employ of the Carranza government as a publicity agent.

YAQUI CAUSE DANGEROUS.

ON BOARD U. S. S. COLORADO, off Guaymas, April 26.—Yaqui uprisings and the Indians' defiant attitude are causing Villa authorities on the Mexican west coast much concern. Troops have refused to operate against the Indians on the warpath in the Yaqui valley, ninety miles southeast of here, it is reported.

In Guaymas soldiers went on a rampage last night, smashing windows. In Northern Mexico Villa and Carranza troops reported to have been fighting yesterday near Durango, forty miles south of Nogales. The result is unknown here.

The two American ranchmen who defended their properties against the Yaquis in the Yaqui valley a few days ago are Walden Rhinodon and Barrett Jones of Greenwich, Conn., both of whom were active in athletics at Yale university in 1905.

Governor Jose Maytorena arrived at Guaymas unexpectedly last night. Yesterday he caused his family to be removed from Guaymas to Nogales on the northern border.

VILLA NEAR DEATH.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—In the battle of Celaya General Villa's horse was shot under him in a charge of the "Battalion of Death," according to an official report from Chihuahua to Enrique C. Llorente of the Villa agency here.

"General Villa's horse was shot yesterday," says the report. "The losses among Obregon's Indian troops were enormous, and the bloody character of the battle would horrify even those accustomed to warfare. The battalion of death was almost annihilated in a charge directed by General Villa personally."

"The losses of General Villa were heavy, but so were those of General Obregon."

CATTLE THIEVES KILLED.

NOGALES, Ariz., April 26.—A band of cattle thieves, long sought by Maytorena, officials in Sonora, were cornered yesterday at Nogales. Four were killed by Villa soldiers, one was made prisoner and executed and several others escaped.

COURT SAYS CHANDLER MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF INVASION PLANNING

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Judge Oscar Trippett of the United States District Court denied today a motion to dismiss the indictment returned some time ago charging Harry Chandler, assistant general manager of the Los Angeles Times; Walter Bowker and General B. J. Viljoen, a former Boer chieftain, with having violated neutrality by backing a plan to throw a military force into the Mexican territory of Lower California. Judge Trippett also denied the request of the defense for the names of the witnesses against them before the case is set for trial.

Chandler, who with his father-in-law, General Harrison Gray Otis, owns extensive interests in Lower California, is alleged to have furnished funds through his ranch manager, Bowker, and Viljoen, to B. Avila, a former Governor of Lower California, for the purpose of equipping a military expedition.

Francisco Ayon and Charles Guzman were indicted with Chandler on the same charges. After the decisions were rendered today attorneys for the defense noted exceptions and notified the court that demurrers to the indictments would be interposed later.

PLAN TANGLE AFTER TANGLE FOR GIRL WITNESS

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—The cross-examination of Edith Serkin, chief witness who accuses her half sister, Mrs. Lillie Pratt, and Charles Sebastian, suspended chief of police, of immorality, was completed this afternoon. The direct examination, which probably will last all afternoon, was then begun by the district attorney.

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—Edith Serkin, chief witness against her half sister, Mrs. Lillie Pratt, and Charles Sebastian, suspended chief of police, in the morality trial now in progress in the Superior Court was placed under cross-examination again today by attorneys for the defense. With more than 100 amendments of changes already made in her original story concerning the "temptation room" of the lodging house next to police headquarters, Sebastian's lawyers sought today to bring out still more.

Occasionally she also sought to bring out points to be used later when the time comes for the alibi which the accused police official says he can establish. One of these today concerned the automobile ride by the girl said she took with Sebastian and Miss Serkin after one of the visits to the "temptation room."

"What kind of an automobile was it?" asked Earl Rogers, Sebastian's chief counsel.

"A great big machine," said the witness.

"What color was it?"

"Red, with a big gold on the front door."

"Sure of that?"

"Well, now, don't you know that all the police motor cars are black? The red ones belong to the fire department."

NAVY JOINS ARMY IN SIEGE

Dardanelles Forts Are Subjected to General Assault

Troops Disembarked on Shores of Gallipoli Peninsula

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 26.—Lieut. Capt. Thierfelder, commander of the German commerce raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, late today informed Collector of Customs Hamilton at Newport News, Va., that he would intern his ship for the war in American waters.

LONDON, April 26, 5.23 p. m.—The Admiralty and the war office declared this afternoon that a general attack on the Dardanelles had begun. An army, it was said, has been disembarked successfully. The following official announcement was given out in London today:

"The general attack on the Dardanelles by the fleet and the army was resumed yesterday."

"The disembarkation of the army, covered by the fleet, began before sunrise at various points on the Gallipoli peninsula, and in spite of serious opposition from the enemy in strong entrenchments protected by barbed wire, was completely successful."

"Before nightfall large forces were established on shore."

"The landing of the army and the advance continue."

LONDON, April 26, 12.20 p. m.—What some military critics are inclined to pronounce the "greatest battle of the war" is now under way on the Yser canal.

Official reports are both meagre and contradictory, but it generally is believed in London that the Germans again are making desperate efforts to break through to the French channel ports. Some such recrudescence of the German offensive has been anticipated by the war experts, but this morning's forecast, the long predicted allied offensive, comes as a distinct shock to the general public.

It is impossible as yet to get a clear idea of the extent of the German movement, but some special dispatches to London papers describe as so important that the Germans are even credited with bringing Field Marshal von Hindenburg from the east to conduct the operations, and Emperor William himself is reported as proceeding to the Yser front.

In the eastern arena of hostilities the Carpathians compete with the Yser for interest. The gateway into Hungary formed by the Uzok Pass is again becoming the scene of sanguinary fighting with neither side making any great gains. As a German objective, it is dimmed by the importance of keeping the Russians out of Hungary, and the Germans are reported as withdrawing their lines from in front of the Polish capital for new concentrations along the fronts of Cracow and in the Carpathians.

The fairway between England and Holland still is being kept clear of commercial shipping with the result that the steamer Noordam, bearing the women delegates to the peace conference, is marooned in the Downs. Some of the delegates sent appeals to Ambassador Page.

Operations in the North Sea are still a deep mystery, but special attention concerning them has virtually ceased on account of the interest in land activities.

BRITISH ORGANIZE BELGIAN RELIEF

LONDON, April 26.—An influential committee for Belgian relief has been organized and has issued an appeal to the public for funds. This committee, composed of many well-known Englishmen of all creeds, purposes to raise the money, but explains it is to be distributed in the form of relief through the American commission for relief, for the reason that Englishmen are not allowed to go to Belgium.

Probe Ownership of S. S. Northern Pacific

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Interstate Commerce Commission has broadened its power to investigate the operation of the steamship Great Northern, owned by the Great Northern Pacific Steamship Company, to include the steamship Northern Pacific. The inquiry is broadened to include whether the provision of the Panama Canal act forbidding ownership of steamship lines by railroads is being violated.

ALLIES RENEW ATTACK T.R. Admits Talking to Boss

PRESENT IN COURT AT TIME HE IS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY OFFICE

Abie Davis, who was held up and robbed by two men believed to be the Broadway bandits, in his office in the Security Bank building, April 16, today caused the arrest of Leigh Hastings whom he saw on Broadway and turned over to a policeman. Davis declares that he positively identified Hastings as one of the men who held him up.

The police doubt the identification as Hastings was actually in Judge Samuels' court, acting as a complaining witness on the afternoon when the hold-up occurred. Hastings had been arrested for having a Chinese lottery ticket in his possession, and complained to the court that it was not right for the police to permit the Chinese lotteries to run and then arrest people for playing them. Judge Samuels declared that he had no knowledge of any such arrangement, and if Hastings would swear to a complaint against the men who had sold him lottery tickets, arrests would follow. Hastings swore to two complaints and the case was set for trial April 16. He was in the courtroom as a witness, according to his own story, at the time the hold-up occurred.

Pending further investigation of the case, Hastings is being held in detention.

JOHN BUNNY, MOVIE COMEDIAN, IS DEAD

NEW YORK, April 26.—John Bunny, whose antics as a moving picture comedian have made millions laugh, died at his home in Brooklyn today. He had been ill for about two weeks of a complication of diseases.

Members of his family were with him when he died. For a week he had apparently been on the mend. A strenuous month of work, it is believed, caused the breakdown which resulted in his death.

Heat Wave in East Breaks All Records

CHICAGO, April 26.—The present heat wave extending over the eastern half of the United States is unprecedented at this season in the history of the weather bureau, according to today's report of the local weather bureau.

The table of temperatures for yesterday shows that Milwaukee, Wis., and Montgomery, Ala., registered the same, 84 degrees. It was 83 at Chicago, and Columbus, Ohio, with 80 degrees, was the hottest spot reporting to the bureau.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—At least forty-eight hours more of the early season hot spell was predicted today by the weather bureau.

Extraordinarily high temperatures for the season was reported today from all points east of the Mississippi river and new records for an April hot spell were made in many places, including Washington, D. C., Hartford, Conn., and Detroit. The absence of rain, except for some scattered showers, is being felt in many sections and crops are suffering.

Business Men Hear Celebration Plans

Four hundred business men gathered here today under Commercial Club auspices, when the details of the "Dance of a Thousand Colors" were discussed. Colonel John P. Irish sounded the keynote of the gathering, urging that the auditorium opening on April 29 be made the symbol of a ten-year history of progress in Oakland. The other speakers were John Phillips, John Smith, Harmon Bell and J. H. King.

Make New Record in Wireless Telephony

NEW YORK, April 26.—A new distance record for wireless telephony in railroad service was claimed today by officials of the Lackawanna Railroad. Such communications were exchanged between railroad superintendents at Scranton, Pa., and Binghamton, N. Y., 62 miles. Trains between those two cities were moved for several hours yesterday under wireless orders.

Kleist Damage Suit Dismissed by Court

NEW YORK, April 26.—The $100,000 damage suit brought against Edward N. Kleist, a member of the "Fayette Club," by the estate of the late Mrs. Kleist, charged with the murder of her husband, was dismissed today by Judge Harbo.

BODIES OF SAILORS LOST

Life Crew Combs Beach in Vain Following Disaster

Vivid Story of Wreck Is Given by Eye-witness in Aeroplane

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—All night long the surfmen of the South Side Life-Saving station patrolled the beach near the treacherous shoals where the gasoline launch Dinah met her fate yesterday afternoon, carrying to their death the seven or more persons on board.

When daylight came Captain Greenbeck of the life-saving crew discovered several articles near the shattered hulk of the craft. One of these was an army hat of the campaign variety. It bore the name of G. J. Smith and was manufactured by Arthur B. Warring of Yonkers, New York, under a contract of June 21, 1907. It had evidently been worn by one of those on board and had probably been purchased from a store dealing in discarded army goods. There was also found a tag of Crab Fishermen's Union No. 97, but there was no name upon it. Captain Greenbeck said that the launch had been on the beach since the night of the disaster. The Dinah was badly battered. Her hatchway was torn, and it was evident that if some one of those on board had taken refuge below deck, they were swept out when the little boat capsized.

Those believed to have gone down in the Dinah are: LOUIS ANDERSON, owner of the launch, 2505 Taylor street. A. H. FLETCHER, saloon proprietor, at 4 Rose street. ALBERT FLETCHER JR., his son, 12 years of age. GEORGE H. DAHME, driver for Jackson Brewing Company, 760 Treat avenue. JOHN BIERMAN, 921 Church street, driver, Jackson Brewery. ADOLPH HOLLMAN, roofer, 411 Diamond street. HARRY MARLAN, an employee of the Home Laundry. ALBERT COCKSEY, 703 McMillen street.

That there may have been two other members in the fishing party is believed possible, as Mrs. Anderson, who is ill and in a destitute condition with her two little girls at their Taylor-street home, declares that her husband announced that eight persons were to have gone on the expedition with him. One of the men to have taken the trip overslept.

JANE ADDAMS, WITH OTHER PEACE FRIENDS, LOCKED FROM HAGUE

ANSWERING the appeal of Miss Addams, Mr. Page said it would be impossible for the embassy to aid the delegates to reach The Hague. All shipping to Dutch ports had been stopped, he explained, and it was not even possible for the members of the embassy to make the trip.

EXPLAIN DETENTION.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Detention of the steamer Noordam, carrying American women delegates to The Hague peace conference, was explained by officials here by reference to a dispatch from Ambassador Page at London, on Friday, stating that all traffic between England and Holland would be held up until further notice.

THE HAGUE, April 25, via London, April 26.—Difficulties on all sides have been encountered ever before the opening of the meeting of the international women's congress, which is scheduled to gather here this week to discuss peace.

The Swiss delegates telegraphed today: "We have been prevented from coming." They gave no explanation, but it is assumed that Germany has decided to allow them to pass.

The French women from the outset have declined to participate. The women from the United States, Sweden, England, Germany, Austria and Hungary, who have arrived, are being harassed, despite the cloudiness of the prospects, in drafting resolutions.

The traditional triangle of love made famous in the problem plays became a quadrangle today in Judge Mortimer Smith's court, when a woman and three men formed the principals in a strange court action.

The woman was Mrs. Margaret Katherine Frewert, niece of General John A. Logan, of Civil War fame. The men were Frederick W. Frewert, her husband; F. W. Weilbacher, affixity number one, and Raine Ewell, handsome and debonaire moving-picture hero, who is alleged by Weilbacher to be affixity number two.

Mrs. Frewert and Weilbacher were arraigned today on a charge of having violated city ordinance 412 last February by registering as man and wife at the Hotel Clay-Ten. To complicate matters, Ewell appeared in court today, billed Mrs. Frewert out and attempted to represent her as an attorney.

Frewert stood by helplessly and watched with some admiration the activity of the movie actor.

"I represent Mrs. Frewert," said Ewell, when the young woman was arraigned. "Is that right?" demanded Judge Smith. "Does this man represent you?"

"He does not," said Mrs. Frewert.

Ewell attempted to break into the proceedings a second time, but was quoted by Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto.

Both Weilbacher and Mrs. Frewert pleaded not guilty and the cases were set for trial April 29.

Sees No Immediate Ending of Rainfall

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Although United States Weather Forecaster C. H. Wilson believes that the storm which has been hanging over the western plateau region has about taken wings to itself and flown away, he has fortified himself behind a prediction for cloudy weather for this afternoon and tomorrow.

In general it is believed that clearing conditions will prevail, but as the rain clouds have been hanging around for some time now the weather experts are somewhat pessimistic regarding their immediate disappearance. There was rain in California during the past four or five days, the last precipitation being reported from Point Reyes by the storm force of the precipitation measuring station and was as much as 1.41, Red Bluff 1.01, Mount Tamalpais .84, San Francisco .25, San Jose .14 and Sacramento .94.

ROOSEVELT LETTERS READ

Correspondence of Interest Entered as Evidence in Suit

Denies Conference With Platt Was "Invisible Government"

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 26.—A series of confidential letters taken from the files kept by the late Thomas C. Platt, while he was representing the State of New York in the United States Senate, were read today to the jury trying William Barnes' suit for alleged libel against Theodore Roosevelt in the supreme court here. Some of the letters were signed by Colonel Roosevelt. In nearly all of them the writers discussed candidates for office in the state government. In reply to a question by Mr. Barnes' counsel, the former President said without the slightest hesitation that he consulted freely with Senator Platt about affairs at Albany, knowing and realizing at all times that he was the "boss" of the Republican party in this state. One of the letters read during the afternoon session contained a postscript which read:

"All right, I'll change the whole board of tax assessors." The colonel denied emphatically that such conferences constituted "invisible government."

When counsel opened a stipulation between counsel that depositions of four unnamed witnesses outside the state would have the same effect as if the witnesses appeared on the stand was read into the record, Mr. Barnes' counsel, then put into the record letters written by Mr. Barnes to Colonel Roosevelt and by Colonel Roosevelt to Mr. Barnes and to Herbert Parsons. The latter letters dated August 21, 1905, were nearly identical in contents and paraphrased in one letter Mr. Barnes discussed Governor Hughes. He said that should Hughes be elected he would set up a political machine and that all politicians who opposed him would have to take refuge in the back door or get out of politics."

The reply of Colonel Roosevelt, written at Oyster Bay, read:

"YOU WERE VERY STRONG in your statements of what the men under you said as to Hughes' unpopularity, and I certainly understood you to say that Bennett felt exactly as you did. When Bennett tells me, as the local leaders like Strassburger, tells me, that the sentiment is very strong for the renomination of Hughes, I have got to take notice of it. I entirely agree with all you say as to your just reasons for complaint against Governor Hughes, and furthermore, with all you say as to the fact that many of those who desire his renomination desire it chiefly for the purpose of hurrying the Republican party down over my dear Parsons, you can hardly suppose that to quote your own words, I am trying to 'treat you as a puppet'—that is, if you mean me when you say 'these in charge of the national campaign, of course, I am not.' On the contrary, I have written again to Taft and to Hitchcock not to make any open statement and I have not the slightest intention of telling you what to do, and never intend to tell those newspapers that you will be told what to do, and never have thought of so telling them."

"You wrote me requesting to see me and asking that I say nothing until I had seen you. I saw you. We went over the situation. I afterward saw Bennett and various others, including Sherman, and the situation, as they related it, was so totally different that I felt that I ought to tell you that this, with other knowledge brought to me, had made me alter my mind as to what was best to be done. But I never had any intention to dictate to you."

MANY CROSS CURRENTS.

"Still I absolutely agree with you that there are many cross currents against Hughes. But I don't see how you are going to put in his record as being weaker."

P. S.—Of course, I want the fullest and most open expression of preference at the primaries, that I'll stand behind for whatever you, Bennett and the rest of the lot, do, and have no intention of forcing the nomination, or of trying to, but that unless you object, I should like, as a good Republican and a party man, as a staunch 'R' or in plain words, to tell you my preference, or whatever it is, worth."

On Saturday April 25, Colonel Roosevelt wrote this letter to Mr. Platt. It is on very good paper and in making the nomination of Hughes unwanted. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

The Story of a Woman Who Dared
TODAY AND TOMORROW
THE NEW EXPLOITS OF ELAINE

DARDANELLES NOT SIMPLE PROBLEM

British War Critic Tells How Allied Fleet Met Hard Nut
to Crack.

LONDON, April 26.—Too great expectations were raised by the preliminary operations of the allied fleet in the Dardanelles, according to a representative of British newspapers who is officially accredited to the expedition.

"The British navy is convinced," the correspondent says, "that the narrow straits could be forced if occasion justified the loss of ships that would result, but unless there were a powerful army ready to occupy the Gallipoli peninsula, the mere fleet would be of little use. The Turkish and German forces immediately would close the straits behind it. So the warships would find it difficult to put their way out again."

FORTS ARE STATIONARY

Notwithstanding the British and French gunners more than the resistance of the old forts around the Dardanelles. For example, those at Seddul Bahr and Kunt Kale were subjected to a devastating bombardment in February, yet when landing parties examined them they found the material damage done was comparatively small. Although they were more severely damaged, the guns were still intact and one 9-inch piece actually was found loaded.

"Similar conditions existed in the forts nearer the narrow. After the terrible bombardment of March 13 their gunners were forced to seek shelter and the fortifications were silenced, but the fleet does not claim to have put many guns out of commission. After the disasters to the battleships Ocean and Irresistible, some of these guns were remounted, concentrating a heavy fire on these vessels, while the work of removing the crews to destroyers was in progress."

The correspondent considers the Turkish such poor gunners that the allies would have been able to Constantinople if there had been only Turkish troops to deal with. He says, however, that the allies must be given German officers for the skillful use of the defenses to meet the ship's fire. For this reason he believes it is essential to have a very large expeditionary force supplied with heavy artillery, both field and howitzers. If the expedition is to be a success.

MINES ARE OBSTACLE.

"The first great moral obstacle," the British observer states, "lies in the constantly renewed mine fields, then the concealed batteries of heavy howitzers and the direct fire guns placed in position since the first attack on the outer forts. Then there are the movable light batteries which bombard the ship from the most unexpected quarters. The severity of the fire from these batteries frequently checks and makes exceedingly difficult the work of mine sweeping."

"The more the task of forcing the straits is examined, the more tremendous proportion does it assume. Moreover, we do not know the strength of the enemy's land forces, but they are entrenched everywhere and the lesson of Flanders brought home to us is the inevitable cost of assaulting entrenched positions."

U. S. Takes Title to Willamette Canal

FORTLAND, Ore., April 26.—Title to the canal and locks around the Willamette Falls at Oregon City, Oregon, was taken here today by the United States government from the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company. The transaction, which has long been pending, opens the upper Willamette river to free navigation, cargoes having been subjected to tolls heretofore of 50 cents per ton and freight and 10 cents for each unsewer.

Germany Will Make Amends for Mistake

LONDON, April 26.—A dispatch from Athens to the Telegraph says Germany has replied to the Greek government's note regarding the torpedoing of the steamer Ellipsantos in the North sea, stating that investigation shows the sinking was due to the mistake of a German submarine. Germany will express regrets and make amends by the payment of an indemnity.

Pleads Guilty to Mine Murder Charge

FAIRMOUNT, W. Va., April 26.—Roy Haller, who with 122 others was indicted for the murder of Constable W. R. Biggs during a riot between striking miners and a sheriff's posse near Farmington, W. Va., last February, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Small Matters Off High Court's Books

OFFICIAL WAR STATEMENTS

By Associated Press.
PARIS, April 26, via London, 2:40 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official report reading:

"In Belgium two German attacks moving out from Paschendale and from Broedende were checked yesterday by British troops. The enemy thereupon bombarded Ypres with violence. Our activities are being continued along the Yser canal."

"At Notre Dame de Lorette we repulsed a German attack."

"On the heights of the Meuse the fighting is developing. The attack on the Calonne trench, reported yesterday, was checked by our counter attack and the enemy driven back. He subsequently made another attack further to the east, in the direction of St. Hemy, evidently striving to recapture Les Eparges."

"A violent attack preceded by a fierce bombardment took place shortly after this movement on the eastern slopes of the position at Les Eparges, the German attack resulted in failure."

By Associated Press.

"In the Vosges the Germans took back Hartmannsweilerkopf. In this engagement 11 officers and 749 French soldiers were made prisoners and six mine throwers and four machine guns were captured."

German Electrician Arrested at Genoa

By Associated Press.
NICE, France, April 26, 5:25 a. m.—A German named Wild, in whose village at Novi near Genoa, a wireless outfit was found, has been arrested. The case against him is said to have been strengthened by the discovery that pieces of paper containing the numbers of Italian regiments were concealed under the wings of each bird in a flock of eighty pigeons belonging to him. Wild's brother is manager of an electric plant at Genoa.

PRaise and Reward FOR GERMAN ADMIRAL

By Associated Press.
AMSTERDAM, April 26, via London.—Dispatches from Berlin state that Emperor William sent the following telegram to Admiral von Tirpitz, minister of marine and admiral of the fleet:

"On today's fiftieth anniversary of your entering the naval service, I express to you my heartiest congratulations. Also my pleasure that, with God's help, it was granted you to celebrate this day still in active service and full vigor. I readily embrace this opportunity to assure you of my warmest gratitude for your great services rendered to the fatherland by the successful extension of the navy. With justified pride you can look today on this your life work, the importance of which the present war has strikingly shown."

"As a sign of my gratitude I confer on you the Grand Commander of the Royal House, Order of the House of Hohenzollern."

OPPOSE ITALIAN PARTICIPATION

Socialist Leader Turati Publishes Letter Reflecting
Attitude of Party.

By Associated Press.
MILAN, Italy, via Paris, April 26.—Opposition to Italy's participation in the war is expressed by Deputy Filippo Turati of Milan, one of the Socialist leaders, in a letter published here today. Importance is attached to Signor Turati's letter, as it is believed to reflect the attitude of Italian Socialists. Signor Turati writes:

"Italian Socialists have the strongest sympathy for the allies, feeling that the violation of treaties designed to protect Belgium has presented a common peril, and cordially desiring Anglo-French victory."

"Sympathy thus aroused may properly stir the nation to exercise its moral influence to take diplomatic action, and may even lead to the formation of voluntary military organizations. Nevertheless, such feeling of sympathy is not sufficient reason for armed intervention by the whole nation, whose soldiers are called to the colors by conscription."

"There is not in the history of nations, even of those many times stronger and richer than Italy, an example of any of them, which, on account of purity of motives and desire for exacting justice, become the avenger of the wrongs such as fill the pages of history. There is no such case because practical reason always forbids such altruistic action."

Signor Turati closes his letter with the declaration that the Socialists of Italy would make themselves more useful to the proletariat of other nations by remaining neutral than by joining in the war.

PEAN GENERAL STRIKE

By Associated Press.
ROME, April 26.—A faction of the Socialists which is vigorously opposed to participation by Italy in the war planning to bring about a general strike through Italy. A great mobilization is ordered. A great majority of the Socialists, however, are not in sympathy with such a plan, and it is said that the effort will fail. The railway employees, on whom the organizers of the strike movement would rely chiefly, declare that none of them would desert his post.

Two Arrests for Selling Army Plans

By Associated Press.
VENEZIA, April 26, 9:20 p. m., via Paris, April 26, 9 a. m.—Charged with attempting to sell to a foreign power railroad plans for the mobilization of the Italian army, John Schlieffen, an interpreter, and Ernesto Crescenzo, a designer, employed in the technical office of the Italian railroads, have been arrested for high treason.

COMMERCE PARALYZED IN PROVINCE OF TRENTO

By Associated Press.
VERONA, Italy, April 26, 9:20 p. m., via Paris, April 26, 8:25 a. m.—Dispatches from the frontier describing conditions in the province of Trent state that commerce and industry are paralyzed and agriculture at a standstill because of the lack of workers. 40,000 have been called to the colors. All horses and oxen have been requisitioned. The lack of sulphate of copper, used to kill parasites which infest the mulberry tree, has seriously threatened the silkworm industry, one of the chief resources of that section.

War Summary

The new German offensive in Belgium, styled by some British commentators the greatest battle of the war, is being pushed on with all the power of the army Germany is reputed to have assembled along this front. The official announcement from Berlin today reports impressive victories, although no admissions to this effect are made in Paris or London. The German statement described attacks in which it is said large numbers of prisoners were taken, including 1000 Canadians.

The official Paris statement gives few details of the fighting in Belgium. It is said German attacks were checked by the British.

The German attack is developing with great force over a large part of the western front. Berlin announces the capture of Hartmannsweilerkopf in the mountains near the east end of the line, which the French took recently after several weeks of fighting. On the heights of the Meuse a severe battle has begun.

In the east there was no change yesterday, so far as the German statement revealed.

The opinion is growing in Rome that Austria and Italy are drifting inevitably toward war. A diplomat accredited to the Quirinal palace, Prince von Buclow, the German ambassador at Rome, who has been the principal figure in the efforts to avert such a war, is saying that it would be impossible for Austria to accept Italy's demands.

Peppino Garibaldi, grandson of the famous Italian statesman, who recently has talked with the Italian king and premier, is said to have received from them the impression that Italy would enter the war with the allies.

Italian refugees from Austria said the frontier had been fortified by the Austrians with concrete trenches and heavy artillery.

A British correspondent accredited officially to the Dardanelles expedition admits that the problem of forcing the straits is a tremendous one. His observations have led him to the belief that a strong army or operations on the Gallipoli peninsula will be necessary. Land operations, he says, would present difficulties, since the Turks are strongly entrenched.

New victories in the fighting in the Carpathians are claimed by the Austrians. After several weeks of slow progress, they have at least reduced the Russian positions on both sides of the Orava valley. The Vienna war office announces, Petrograd reports the repulse of an attack in Czech pass, and says that the Austrians have brought up a large amount of artillery along the Carpathian front.

CHICO, April 26, 9:50 a. m., via Paris, April 26, 9:20 a. m.—Eighty-seven more arrests for demonstrations resulting from the shortage of food are reported from Trieste. The people are said to be living almost entirely on potatoes, a large supply of which has been received. Serious disorders also have been reported from Cape D'Isola (a fortified town in Istria situated on a rock in the Gulf of Trieste), as well as Arco and Riva in Trent.

AUTO SUSPECT RELEASED
CHICO, April 26.—George Gordon, who was arrested here on suspicion of being a member of the party of three who left Bedford, Ore., a few days ago in a stolen Buick automobile, and for whom a warrant charging them with grand larceny was held by the sheriff at that place, has been released from custody on request of the Bedford authorities.

KING TALKS WAR WITH MINISTERS

Definite Italian Decision Is Expected by Middle of Next Month.

By Associated Press.
ROME, April 26, via Paris, 9:05 a. m.—The opinion prevails in parliamentary circles that if no definite result as to Italy's participation in the war is reached previous to May 12, the date upon which the Chamber of Deputies reconvenes, Parliament will be prorogued.

International questions could not be discussed in Parliament while they were still under negotiation, it is argued, and it would be absurd and almost undignified for Parliament to discuss trifling matters when such highly important questions were before the country. Furthermore, the chamber has given full powers to the cabinet and nothing has occurred to destroy this confidence.

Referring to the international financial situation created by the war, the Giornale d'Italia says the United States, at the end of hostilities, will be the only country to have secured large economic profit. This paper then gives statistics to show the increase in American exports and says further:

"This war, which is devouring Europe, is a magnificent thing, financially, for the United States."

King Victor Emmanuel met the members of the cabinet in conference yesterday. He talked with Premier Salandra and Foreign Minister Sonnino on the situation at length and after they had gone he was escorted for an hour with Minister of War Zuppoli.

Austrian military authorities are said to be rapidly completing their preparations for defense. Twelve thousand troops are quartered at Trent, 4000 at Rovereto, 4000 at Riva and 15,000 altogether at various smaller places. Arrangements are being made for housing 5000 Prussians—3000 at Trent and 2000 at Mezzolombardo.

IRVING WINS AT BERKELEY.

Common sense reasserted itself at Berkeley on Saturday in the election to the mayoralty of Samuel C. Irving by the handsome vote of 7308, as against 4517 for his competitor, J. Stitt Wilson. Mr. Irving represented individually and in relation to the immediate issues of the campaign, the business idea as against the whimsicalities, the theories and the sensationalism associated with the name of Mr. Wilson. He is a substantial man of affairs, a long-time citizen and an alumnus of the university.

We say that common sense has reasserted itself at Berkeley; because the policies of that community have not always been wisely controlled. It is not very long ago that an element inspired by whimsical ideas and dominated by an itch for innovation and experimentation, got the upper hand in local affairs. It was a faction made up on the one hand of disappointed and disgruntled politicians, and on the other of wildly theorizing professionals in large part connected with the teaching force of the university. It was a kind of partnership not uncommon between extremes of sentiment and between classes totally at odds in their aims. We frequently see the like of it in practical co-operation in politics between the low saloon and the advocates of extreme policies of suppression with respect to the liquor traffic.

This precious combination at Berkeley put a soap-box advocate of Socialism, none other than this same J. Stitt Wilson, defeated by Mr. Irving on Saturday, into the mayor's chair. Practically, insofar as Berkeley itself was concerned, the damage was not so great as might have been expected. Under the sobering influence of responsibility, and under the restraints happily provided in the local system, Mr. Wilson's administration was fairly conservative. If nothing was done to advance the interests of the community, it may also be said that nothing much happened contrarily.

The serious damage, resulting from Wilson's election was to the name and fame of Berkeley, and to the material interest of the university about which it centers and which naturally is the chief community asset. Now for several years the domestic movement towards Berkeley has been very considerable. Substantial citizens, retiring from business and desiring domestic establishment in a community of charming physical conditions and fine associations, have turned in numbers to Berkeley. To this movement a distinct check was given by Wilson's election. Substantial citizens are disposed neither to invest their means nor to live under whimsical schemes of government. Again, there was impressed upon the State the idea that in one way or another influences associated with the university had brought about a "crank" scheme of things. "If that is a practical consequence of higher education," remarked one man on the floor of the Legislature, "I, for one, do not feel disposed to encourage it." It cannot, of course, ever be known to what extent this spirit tended to limit appropriations for the great school at Berkeley, but that it was a positive and destructive influence in connection with legislation in behalf of the university, is an indisputable fact.

The election of Mr. Irving on Saturday is a mighty encouragement to those who see in the pending Oakland campaign an analogous situation. We have here a candidate for the mayoralty, who in many ways stands as did J. Stitt Wilson in the Berkeley campaign. It is true Mr. Davis is not a Socialist (excepting when he happens to be with Socialists), but he is something very much worse. He is a blatherskite of the worst type. He represents nothing substantial, nothing constructive, nothing tending to the progress and the larger welfare of Oakland. His candidacy, in series his eighth in a career running back over twenty years, is in itself an impertinence. The election of Mr. Davis would be bad in every way. Particularly it would discourage and nullify the spirit which in late years and in such marked degree has carried Oakland forward.

But most seriously of all it would affect the reputation of Oakland. In connection with other unfortunate incidents, including our recent failure to make good in relation to what the outside world has held to be a community pledge to the exposition, it would be taken as a mark of Oakland's abandonment of her larger and better pretensions. Our ambitions and energies in recent years have given to Oakland a new character. She stands today a recognized factor in the larger life of California. Her position is that of a growing force. All this will be lost if she shall elect to the mayoralty a man known only through his propensities for agitation, his contempt for progress, his willingness to subordinate the higher community interest to his personal desire for advancement and aggrandizement.

Berkeley thus menaced has shown her spirit by administering the decisive rebuke to J. Stitt Wilson, a man whose incumbency of the mayor's chair, once a grievous injury, is now an unsavory memory. It remains for Oakland to make a similar exhibition of public spirit by administering a sharp rebuke to John L. Davis.

Announcement of the purpose of the Rockefeller Foundation to secure the services of Surgeon General Gorgas to take charge of a great project which it has planned for ridding the world of the dread typhus fever which is now ravaging Serbia and threatening the existence of that nation, focuses attention on the good work for humanity which has been successfully carried forward by this institution. The Rockefeller Foundation and the allied Rockefeller institutions have been organized and conducted with a wisdom, a knowledge and a foresight as great and unerring and as successful as the wisdom and the intelligence which built up and directed the fortunes of the great commercial corporation which Mr. Rockefeller so long dominated. The vast sums of money which Mr. Rockefeller has given to educational foundations and to the foundations for combating diseases and ills to which humanity is heir, have already borne rich fruit. These institutions are directed with a businesslike effectiveness which everywhere challenges admiration. They do things. Their efforts are mighty, forceful and timely. Some of the best minds of the world have been secured for the service of the Rockefeller institutions. The effort to secure Surgeon General Gorgas is another indication of the alertness and efficiency of the men who are managing the Rockefeller foundations. These foundations are not managed by Mr. Rockefeller. He has nothing whatever to do with them. But he indicated the general lines on which they should be built up and his methods of organization have been applied to the work. The world will be under a debt of incalculable gratitude to General Gorgas and the Rockefeller Foundations if between them they can eliminate typhus fever from the list of diseases which prey upon mankind.

HELPING THE FARMER.

The National Department of Agriculture at Washington, which has been for many years one of the most handsomely equipped departments in the matter of money and appropriations, is going through a process of reorganization, and of adjustment to the present agricultural needs and conditions of the country.

Congress has authorized the Secretary of Agriculture to make some important innovations, such as the establishment of a service or a bureau which will have to do with the matter of the relations with the various States insofar as the improvement of all things relating to agriculture in its larger aspects is concerned.

Congress has also wisely made provisions, for the first time, for an emergency fund to be used in overcoming epidemics among animals, such as the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease, an outbreak which found the department without adequate funds to meet a grave and menacing danger.

Congress has set aside the sum of $2,500,000 for use in the case of emergencies, and it will be employed to eradicate such diseases as the foot and mouth disease, rinderpest, contagious pleuro-pneumonia or other contagious or infectious diseases of animals. The total appropriation for the department of agriculture, for the next fiscal year, is $22,971,000. This total does not include, however, the sum of $1,080,000 available under what is called the Smith-Lever Extension Act for co-operative agricultural extension work between the States and the United States Department of Agriculture. From this appropriation $100,000 is granted outright to each State and the remaining $600,000 is allotted to the States on the basis of their rural population. This allotment is only paid, however, when the States agree to set aside an equal amount for agricultural work. In other words, to obtain the total of $600,000 the States must likewise appropriate $600,000 to be expended in co-operative agricultural extension work. The object of this fund and of the joint effort on the part of the State and the Federal Department of Agriculture is to give instructions and practical demonstrations, not only in agriculture, but in home economics to persons who are not attending agricultural schools. Information is to be imparted to such persons through field demonstrations, publications and lectures. There is no disposition on the part of Congress to curtail any of the important functions of the Department of Agriculture. On the other hand, there is a very admirable desire and purpose to increase in every possible way the efficiency of the department of agriculture.

TROUBLOUS TIMES.

Mr. Guthrie, the United States Ambassador to Tokio, has sailed from Japan for the United States. He is quoted as saying that he expects no difficulties to arise in the far East which are likely to involve the United States. We presume this must be his honest conviction, for otherwise it is hardly to be expected that he would absent himself from so important a post at this time. We hope and believe that Mr. Guthrie is well informed and that nothing of serious consequence will happen during his absence. We recall in this connection, however, the distressing fact that some years ago in Cuba the American Minister, Mr. Edwin Morgan left his post at Havana and went to Europe, having assured the Department of State that everything was quiet in Cuba and that nothing of importance which could concern the United States would happen during the period of his vacation. He had not been at sea three days before a fierce revolution which had been long planned broke out, the Palma government was overthrown and the United States was forced to intervene and send a large army to Havana. Sometimes our diplomats are not as well informed as they ought to be. If Mr. Morgan failed to recognize the signs of an important revolutionary movement which had been on the way for months, at his very threshold, it may be possible that Ambassador Guthrie is not fully aware of the possibilities involved in the somewhat heated negotiations now being carried on between Japan and China.

Thomas A. Edison announces that he has perfected a storage battery of superior style for use in submarine vessels. It is believed that this battery will not only make the submarine more habitable, by preventing asphyxiation of the crew in the event of a prolonged submergence, but it will have a strategic advantage in that it will increase the under-sea cruising radius of the submarine vessel by one hundred per cent. The submarine vessel has been much improved in the last decade, but little has been accomplished toward making it habitable. It has been almost impossible to rid the boat of poisonous gases. Mr. Edison expects to improve this condition by striking at the source of the trouble, that is, the batteries. If this battery proves to have all the admirable qualities claimed for it, it will practically solve one of the great problems the Navy Department has had to contend with, that is, the problem of life and power, which, up to the present time, have made the submarine dangerous alike in peace and in war, and as perilous to its crew as to its enemy. The Edison battery promises, not only to stimulate enlistments, but it should make American under-water war-craft the safest and most powerful in the world.

James P. Edoff was a man of substantial character, eminently a worthy citizen. His part in the business life of Oakland during a career of some forty years was that of a dependable and a helpful force. His methods made steadily for community welfare. As president of the Park Commission Mr. Edoff left upon Oakland a mark that will last for all time. Such men are none too numerous anywhere. The death of such a man is a distinct loss.

VARIETIES

There's a broad highway with an open reach,
And it leads far out from the swales of care;
So it's off with the old,
And it's on with the new,
In the land of sky and the wide glad air.

Oh, it's up and away to the rolling hills,
It is up and away to the tumbling sea,
And it's off with the old,
And it's on with the new,
In the spreading shade of the old elm tree.

There's a friendly kiss in the tossing foam,
There are bells a-chime on the witching deep,
So it's up and away
On the blue, blue bay,
In our race for life up its rocky steep.

There's a dream in the heart of the winy woods,
And never a thought of age is there,
So it's off with the old,
And it's on with the new,
With a thousand years and a day to spare.

There is peace of love in the magic hour,
With the hay and the sun and the singing bird,
So it's off with the old,
And it's on with the new,
Where the trumpeting call to life is heard.

Oh, it's up and away where the mountains dwell,
By the broad highroad of the sky and air
And it's off with the old,
And it's on with the new,
With the heart of a child where there's life to spare.
—Robert Randall in the Boston Transcript.

Glancing over the cases in court it seems most strange, extremely strange, on this side of the bay it is San Francisco who broke the speed limits, and on the other side it is sometimes Oaklanders. Where is the psychology behind this riddle? Why the wherefore of this paradox? Of course, the explanation on one side is not difficult. San Franciscoans are so exhilarated with Alameda County that they cannot help but burst into speed. But with respect to Oaklanders the matter is not so easy. It surely cannot be that they are in such a hurry to leave San Francisco county behind that they make haste at such cost when over there.

What America Has Done.

In "Uncle Sam's Modern Miracles" William Albertson Du Puy makes a pretentious and entertaining exposition of big things America has done and is doing for the benefit of the American people and all humanity. Among our good works he includes our operations in the Philippines, Porto Rico, Cuba and the Isthmus of Panama, the "backbone of the Mississippi," the transformation of our Western desert into the intelligent activities of our Agricultural Department and our assimilation of immigrants.

Town Planning.

A problem of large importance in municipal movements for social betterment is treated with intelligence by George Cadbury, Jr., in an illustrated volume entitled "Town Planning." The author is a member of the city council town planning committee of Birmingham, England, and in writing his book has had constantly in mind work done and projected in his own city. He seems to have a good knowledge of his subject, and he makes an admirable presentation of his facts and opinions.

NEED OF LEGS AND ARMS.

The report of our consul-general in London calls attention of American manufacturers to the impending shortage of artificial legs and arms following the war abroad. It is a commercial opportunity; we here are prepared to meet it. The crippled of the European war are just beginning to arrive home—such as have survived their injuries—such as the field. The number will increase vastly as the conflict progresses. It is figured that from three to five months after operation upon the field will be turned before the sufferers can patch themselves up. And when this is done they will return to civil life with a loss of capacity which must be terrible in the aggregate.

This is only an incident of warfare. The poor fellows for whom we are asked to build wooden legs and arms went out in the full panoply of physical manhood. They represented the industrial force of the empire. They return maimed, perhaps dependent, surely lacking some degree of competency. It is a pity, but inevitable.—Boston Post.

"THE BOAT WILL UPSET."

An intelligent opinion as to how the "Boat" will upset, to be given by the Editor.—The passage by the Oregon Legislature, of the non-partisan election bill caps the climax of silly legislation and is the greatest outrage ever perpetrated upon a free people.

I have been a voter for many years, and this law is the most stupid I have ever seen. I have always felt that the men selected by the conventions of the Republican party were the best to vote for, as a general rule.

Now see now this non-partisan scheme will work. I have been a busy man since coming to California and have not had time to go to the polls. I know few people here and under this proposed system I will have to depend on some one to tell me who is the best man to vote for instead of trusting to a regular convention to nominate the best men. Now I fear that the election will be a scramble between self-interest and the good of the community. Now I fear that the election will be a scramble between self-interest and the good of the community.

However, this attempt to put all the people of California in the non-partisan boat will defeat itself. The boat will upset. The crowd of Johnson followers will not be able to prevent the holding of conventions to recommend to the voters the best men to vote for, and then let every man vote, not for the self-interest candidates, but for the Republicans or Democrats selected by partisan conventions. In this way only can the most intelligent and patriotic of any public officer in the state of California be secured.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

The University boys were not the only sufferers by last night's fire at the boat-house. There is weeping and wailing among some of the members of the Acme Club today, for they are injured to the extent of $250 or $300 by the fire and its destructive work. A fine barge, owned by the Ariel Club, was consumed by the flames and the Acme boys are responsible for its loss, for they had borrowed it from the Ariel for practice work. The Acme boys will hold a meeting at a very early date to make arrangements to replace the Ariel's barge.

At length Oakland has a Pocahontas round. This auxiliary order to that of the Improved Order of Red Men, has been named Womans No. 15 and was instituted last night. The council opens with 103 enthusiastic members and the following officers: Mrs. Sadie Gardner, Mrs. Harry Boyce, Mrs. Josie Shipley, Miss Ida Hussey, Mrs. J. G. Black, Mrs. W. C. Coln, Miss Tillie Roy, Mrs. M. Scully, Miss Sarah Barker, Mrs. E. Paulson, Mrs. E. L. Wilson and Miss Nellie Shipley.

EDISON MAKING DYES.

Thomas A. Edison predicted today that the United States would soon be manufacturing its own dyes, and that the so-called famine in dyes, due to the war, was about to end. At his plant at Silver Lake, N. J., he said, he had already made large quantities of the best aniline dyes, and he asserted that it was only necessary for textile manufacturers to follow his example to break the monopoly of Germany which has hitherto had in the dye industry.

"Since the outbreak of the war," he said, "I have been making carbolic acid, aniline oil and benzol. The last sold at 25 cents a gallon before the war. Today manufacturers are paying 60 to 75 cents. Aniline oil was selling at 11 to 12 cents a pound before the war. Now it is up to 70 cents. I am not making any money in this line, but I thought I would at least make the start, and I hope some of these timid Americans who lack backbone to foster a movement worth while will now come along and follow suit."

"The Germans controlled the trade to such a degree that no one else gave much thought to it. But the textile men in this country need not be worried. We can make for them all the primary colors they wish, and more, too. That we need most is a protective law such as Canada has. We should prevent 'dumping' here of foreign goods."—New York Times.

THE YESTER

Passing It On.
A Sunday school teacher, after conducting a lesson on the story of Jacob's Ladder, concluded by saying, "Now, is there any little girl or boy who would like to ask a question about the lesson?"

Little Susie looked puzzled for a moment, and then raised her hand.

"A question, Susie?" asked the teacher.

"I would like to know," said Susie, "if the angels have wings, why did they have to climb up the ladder?"

The teacher thought for some moments and then, looking about the class, asked, "Is there any little boy who would like to answer Susie's question?"—Everybody's Magazine.

An Imaginative Plumber.
Recently during a voyage to England the passengers of a big liner were treated to the remarkable sight of a spouting whale. Everybody, of course, was greatly interested, but one man in particular almost went into rapture.

"Say, Bill," remarked a passenger, addressing an acquaintance, "wonder who the fellow is who is going daffy over the whale?"

"His name is Smith," answered the other. "He is a plumber in a big eastern city."

"I see," returned the first, musingly, "but why should he be so enraptured?"

"Nothing could be plainer," smiled the second. "He imagines that every spout of the whale is a busted water pipe."—From the Philadelphia Telegraph.

A Domestic's Domestic Problem.
A woman says that the best cook she ever had left her good job to get married. The cook's new husband didn't turn out to be such a hero as he was expected to be and the cook came back to find her troubles to her former mistress.

"He's a pretty good husband, mom," she said, "but he licks me so often I can't hardly stand it no more."

"Why don't you have him arrested?" "I've been thinking of that. But I got a lame back and can't wash no more, and how would I ever get the money to pay his fine if he was plucked?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TED WOOD PUT TO WOUNDED.
A riot recently took place in Budapest because of the discovery of a scheme of a war contractor to feed wax and wood pulp to wounded soldiers in a hospital, according to a Budapest newspaper received at the Claridge yesterday.

"The riot," says the paper in question, "was the outcome of an investigation into charges against the contractor who obtained the contract to feed the wounded soldiers at one of the temporary hospitals established in the spacious rooms and halls of the Stock Exchange in Budapest."

Delinquent subscribers are hereby notified that jack rabbits will no longer be accepted in payment on back subscription at this office. We've already received so many of the critters that our children's ears are beginning to grow long and pointed as a result of eating too many of them. Until further notice, however, coyote, bobcat, skunk and mountain lion pelts, American furs and bled bear grass will be accepted on subscription at their market value. Venison in season serves as cash. Govern yourselves accordingly.—Tucson (N. M.) Sun.

Keep the Children Bright and Happy

Happy youngsters must be healthy. The digestive organs of children get out of order as readily as do those of their elders, and the result is equally distressing. When the bowels are clogged with an accumulation of refuse from the stomach the child naturally becomes cross and fretful from the discomfort, and is often punished for temper when medical attention is really what is needed.

The next time your child is cross and unhappy, without apparent reason, try giving it a mild laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild, pleasant tasting combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, and is especially recommended for children because of its freedom from all opiate or narcotic drugs and its gentle action. It is sold in drug stores everywhere. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 412 Washington St., Monticello, Wis.

FESTIVAL HALL WILL BE CLOSED FOR TIME

TRIBUNE BUREAU, Panama-Pacific Exposition, April 25.—The musical activities of Festival Hall, at the Exposition, will come to a temporary halt for the eleven days beginning Monday, May 2, as the spacious and beautiful auditorium is to be closed for a number of alterations.

On account of the immediate importance of the series of 1914-15 concerts to be given by the Boston Symphony orchestra, commencing Friday, May 14, it will be necessary to increase the seating capacity and, to that end, a balcony fronted by a norelous or boxes, will be installed, giving the building a total capacity of four thousand seats. East-toned portieres and curtains will be hung over the windows at the west side of the building, thus taking the strong glare of light, which prevails in the day, out of the eyes of the instrumentalists.

In addition to the improvements in the body of the house, a practical stage, with a new balcony and full theatrical equipment will be built. The stage will be so constructed that in twenty minutes the proscenium may be raised and everything in shipshape order for an organ recital. It is safe to say that after the alterations are completed, Festival hall will be the finest concert auditorium in America.

"BRIDE SHOP" OAKLAND LURE VAUDEVILLE BILLS ARE BRIGHT

Musical Comedy Reigns With New Attractions

Married? Then drop around to the Orpheum this week and see "The Bride Shop." You'll forget your troubles.

Then drop around to the Bride Shop and get a laugh.

Not able to laugh? Then the Bride Shop's a sure cure! At any rate, see the Bride Shop.

Given a group of beautiful girls and a clever chorography, the Orpheum circuit has produced its laughing masterpiece. Of course, the authors had something to do with it, and they made the stage and production add the finishing touches that make the final success—and the Orpheum management has arranged every resource to make the offering the big hit of the year.

A dozen pretty girls dance the latest fashions in the latest fashions. That's nothing new. But they do it differently. That is now. Then there's the comedian—Andrew Tompkins—wags his tongue in a way that shows that no comedian ever hampered real art—but anyway the new act is well worth the Orpheum—and a laughing hit of the year.

Equally important on the bill is dainty "The Arabian Nights," made famous by a little "Littles" made famous. Now it's making other some famous, and gives a program ranging from grand opera to ragtime. Her success in success on the Orpheum circuit.

Stella Tracey, the "super feminine" girl, with Victor Stone, the "lively" comedian, and then comes "Hiram," Fred Ardath, as lively farmer's lad, surrounded by fair dancers, mingles with the folks on the farm, the short and the prima donna in one of the prettiest of modern musical comedies. George Rose presents a number of times in success on the Orpheum circuit.

OAKLAND PHOTO

Russian subjects on the motion picture screen are popular with exhibitors and patrons. The newspapers constantly print articles on this theme and the result in the popular mind is on the whole unfavorable to the Russian cause.

Internal politics, John Orenham, amongst many others, has dramatized this subject: he has adapted his play from the novel by Owen Davis, "Hearts in Exile," which features Clara Kimball Young. As "The Duke" is a Russian subject, it is not surprising that the Oakland Photo Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, it becomes a veritable tragedy—dramatic, suffering, anguished, appealing and always lovely.

FRANKLIN

Tolstoy will be remembered as the implacable enemy of sham and hypocrisy. He was a man of the world, and wrote with the opinion of the world, and wrote with a pen dipped in acid of conditions as he knew they existed. Criticism raged about him, but it never ruffled him for a moment. His still held inflexibly to his creed that a great writer must pen the truth unflinchingly, regardless of the consequences.

"Anna Karenina" one of his greatest works, was given its first presentation at the Franklin theater yesterday. It is a powerful dramatic and shows the folly in attempting defiance of the moral code of modern civilization. The play is a masterpiece of construction by Klein and Edward Jose give convincing portrayals of the leading roles. "Anna Karenina" will be shown again today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

IDORA PARK

Louis F. Klein was called out to respond to enthusiastic applause from audiences at Idora Park yesterday.

He was the first time his great European spectacle, "The Attack on the Dardanelles," was shown at Idora Park. The spectacle was constructed by Klein and his assistants since the commencement of the attempt of the allied fleet to force a passage to Constantinople and the Black Sea. It is historically accurate and scenically beautiful and impressive.

Klein has shown the utmost ingenuity in carrying out the mechanical details that have made this a perfect presentation in miniature of the historic struggle dividing the Aegean and the Sea of Marmora.

Carver's diving horses are still the big free attraction at Idora Park. Two new horses are being trained, and will shortly make their debut in new feats of high diving.

COLUMBIA

Mike, like a bogus detective and a real policeman mingle in a riot of fun this week in "A Close Shave," one of the biggest screams the Columbia has ever shown. The crook who steals property and places it in the pockets of perfectly respectable people is responsible for the complication and fun of "A Close Shave." Patsy Noon, Olive Artell and the rest of the Columbia favorites are co-responsible for the comedy.

Clever musical numbers add to the attractiveness of the offering, and elaborate staging and scenery are seen in the comedy. Several of the musical details have been made this a perfect presentation in miniature of the historic struggle dividing the Aegean and the Sea of Marmora.

Carver's diving horses are still the big free attraction at Idora Park. Two new horses are being trained, and will shortly make their debut in new feats of high diving.

"FEET OF CLAY"

Is the Omar philosophy a myth? In any case, the coauthors of "Feet of Clay" have boldly declared that Omar Khayyam, if he ever was real, a disbeliever in the afterlife, and as fervently preached the delights of temperance.

No scientific or archaeological defense is needed for this contention, however, inasmuch as it forms merely the basic plot of the new musical extravaganza to be given at Oakland's new municipal auditorium May 5 and 6 as a benefit for numerous deserving charities, but with a professional cast and chorus of 85.

The book of "Feet of Clay" is by Agnes Hull Spink and Edward Goss. The production will be in the latest and most approved method, which includes stage drapes in place of stereotyped scenery as well as many novelties in costuming. The characters represented in the piece are all taken from history and represent such notables as Cleopatra, Napoleon, George Washington, Omar, Queen Elizabeth, Nero, Joan of Arc and others.

Gustav Mann in San Francisco

The many friends in Oakland and the east bay cities of Gustav Mann will not doubt be pleased to learn of his connection with San Francisco's newest and best of the new musical extravaganza to be given at Oakland's new municipal auditorium May 5 and 6 as a benefit for numerous deserving charities, but with a professional cast and chorus of 85.

FORTY BOYS IN ONE TANK RACE

Grammar School Lads Show Speed in First Swimming Meet.

The first annual swimming meet of the Oakland grammar schools was held Friday evening at the New Piedmont Baths, and attracted a large number of entries and keen competition in all events. The contestants in the 25-yard race for the 35-pound class taxed the capacity of the large tank, over forty boys hitting the water at the crack of the starter's pistol. Led in an adaptation of Evans' famous drama, "The Duke."

KING OF HOBOES SAVED FROM DEATH IN PIVER

NEW YORK, April 25.—George E. Carter Jr. was entertaining forty guests yesterday afternoon on his yacht "Marionette," anchored in the Hudson, off the Columbia Yacht Club, at Eighty-sixth street, when Jeff Davis, "King of the Hoboes," went aboard. Davis wanted to talk to Carter about a 40-acre farm, recently donated temporarily by Carter for use of the former hotel de Gink lodgers.

A signal came from shore that more of Carter's guests had arrived. Davis said he would bring them out. He and J. L. La Blanc got into a rowboat, with La Blanc rowing. About 100 feet from the club float, Davis fell out of the boat, turning it over.

Swimming is not an accomplishment of the "King of the Hoboes." He yelled and sank. La Blanc grabbed Jeff by the hair when he came up sputtering, and towed him 100 feet to shore.

"Some bath that," said Davis when he regained his breath. "Guess I'll go home," and he headed for the subway.

La Blanc was driven to his home, at 215 Manhattan avenue.

TOLSTOI'S "ANNA KARENINA" ATTRACTS CROWDS TO FRANKLIN THEATER

BETTY NANSEN AND EDWARD JOSE in a Scene From Tolstoi's "Anna Karenina" at the Franklin Theatre.

Count Leo Tolstoi's famous novel, "Anna Karenina," was given its initial presentation as a photo-drama at the Franklin theater yesterday, and despite the rainy weather, the theater was crowded to capacity at every performance. "Anna Karenina" is a powerful arraignment of modern society and tells the story of a woman who dared to defy the conventionalities and the moral code of modern civilization. Her fate as shown in the film portrays a good lesson.

Betty Nansen and Edward Jose both give splendid performances in the leading roles. "Anna Karenina" will be at the Franklin today, tomorrow and Wednesday. It is a picture well worth seeing. Performances are continuous from 1:30 to 11 p. m.—Ad a woman who dared to defy the conventionalities.

NEWS OF SAN JOSE

What Busy Santa Clara Valley Is Doing

SEEK PASTOR TO SUCCEED KELLY

Whereabouts of Assailed Minister a Carefully Guarded Secret.

SAN JOSE, April 26.—The resignation of Dr. Claude Kelly, who quitted his pulpit and quietly left San Jose a couple of weeks ago without stopping to face charges brought by Deacon F. E. Cason and Miss Eva Cason, was yesterday accepted with regrets by the First Baptist church. The board of trustees is now looking for a new pastor and will probably extend a call to the Rev. C. H. Hart of the Calvary Baptist church, Sacramento, who filled the pulpit last night in Dr. Kelly's absence and who expressed his confidence in Dr. Kelly's moral integrity.

Dr. Kelly has been under fire a couple of times on a similar charge, brought some time ago by members of his congregation and was exonerated by vote of the state association. Some of his flock, misled by the conduct of inquiries, left the First church and founded the Grace Baptist church here. But the faith of those who remained loyal to Dr. Kelly that they refused to investigate Cason's accusations and, instead, voted unanimously to oust the deacon from his church office.

Resolutions were adopted yesterday at the meeting of the First Baptist congregation expressing "deep sorrow for the loss of so earnest and faithful a pastor. We feel that it would indeed be a selfish motive that would expect him to make further sacrifices for the church. During his pastorate of three years and six months, 450 have been added to the church of this congregation and we feel this is the seal of God's approval on his ministry."

FAITH IS EXPRESSED.
"We thoroughly believe in his moral integrity, his loyalty of heart, truthfulness of purpose, uprightness of character and Christian manliness and commend him to all of the faith, wherever the Lord may call him."

The Rev. Mr. Hobart, in a personal message to the congregation before his sermon yesterday, told of the love which he and his congregation in Sacramento had for Dr. Kelly and of their grief to hear of the "awful attacks" made on him. He then reiterated his belief in Dr. Kelly's "moral integrity."

Frank Hoyt, chairman of the church board of trustees, announced that Mrs. Claude Kelly had been obtained as pastor's assistant until "such time as she would feel compelled to join her husband."

Dr. Kelly is believed to be in Chicago at the present time. His plans are being kept secret in order to avoid the possibility, it is said, of enemies here making trouble for him in another field.

COLUMBUS KNIGHTS AT SAN JOSE GATHERING

SAN JOSE, April 26.—A thousand members of the Knights of Columbus, representing councils from San Francisco and other bay cities, to Los Angeles, participated in a big Catholic demonstration here yesterday in connection with the celebration of the second and third degrees of the order. The second degree was exemplified by District Deputy C. L. Barrington of San Jose Council, with the assistance of the degree team of the local council, while the third degree honors were conferred by Joseph J. Scott of Los Angeles, with the assistance of the degree team. After low mass in St. Joseph's church, dinner was served by ladies of St. Joseph's parish. Visiting women were entertained with arolley ride to Los Gatos and Saratoga.

TELL OF WEDDING THAT TOOK PLACE LAST JULY

SAN JOSE, April 26.—Miss Lola Edith Dunn, a pretty teacher in the Sunnyvale grammar school, and Lester Newton Dunn, her cousin, of the Joshua Hewdy Iron Works, of Sunnyvale, were secretly married last July at Martinez. The marriage was announced today and caused considerable surprise, as Miss Dunn's closest friends were not aware of the couple's new relationship. The bridegroom comes from Alturas, Modoc county, and had been living at the home of Miss Dunn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunn of Sunnyvale.

JEWELRY IS STOLEN.
SAN JOSE, April 26.—The home of J. W. Grimes, a capitalist, living at 1505 Alameda, was entered by burglars last night and a considerable quantity of jewelry, including family keepsakes, taken. The sheriff's office is investigating.

Hygiene of Gas; Its Aid in Ventilation

Not the least among the advantages of the use of gas for lighting and other purposes is the marked beneficial effect upon hygienic conditions. In connection with this subject it is well to call attention to a prevailing erroneous opinion built upon insufficient knowledge and superficial thought. It is often stated that the products of gas combustion vitiate the air. All impartial investigations by competent authorities have shown that this statement is groundless, and that, due to unexpected but none the less reasonable and effective causes, the burning of gas in small quantities such as are required for lighting is always accompanied by an improvement in the breathing quality of the air. Furthermore, gas fuel has been found to be comparatively free from the injurious effects.

THE COURT OF LAST RESORT.
Around the stove of the cross roads grocery is the real court of last resort, for it usually overrules all other. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been brought before this court in almost every cross roads grocery in the country, and has always received a favorable verdict. It is in the country where man expects to receive full value for his money that this remedy is most appreciated. For sale by Grand Bros. Drug Store.—Advertisement.

GANG MAY BE COUNTERFEITERS

Police Trying to Trace History of Trio Caught on Barnacle.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—A strike suspicion on the part of the chief of police of North Bend, Ore., that two of the three alleged counterfeiters captured recently on board the ship Barnacle may be members of the famous Allen gang, which operated in Hillsville, Virginia, in 1912, killing three men and taking to the mountains, is being investigated today.

William E. Young, Thomas Boggs and Frank Harris were the men taken into custody by Secret Service Agent Harry Moffitt and police detectives on the Barnacle, which was fortified like a revenue cutter. Today Young pleaded not guilty, giving his right name as Edward Wilson. Boggs pleaded guilty and admitted that his name was "Claid Allen. The chief of police at North Bend says that Young, or Wilson, is, in his belief, Bush Allen, and he is of the opinion that he and Claid Allen are either brothers or cousins. Whether these men have any connection with the Allen gang or not is a matter which the Federal authorities will endeavor to determine, but there is no suspicion that Harris had anything to do with the gang. He joined Young in pleading not guilty to the counterfeiting charge.

United States Attorney John W. Preston urged that the plea be not entered until next Thursday, which is the day fixed for the sentence of Boggs, as it was believed the men might think better and decide to change their pleas and throw themselves on the mercy of the court.

All are charged with conspiracy to counterfeit "bogus 5-cent pieces. Moulds were found on the Barnacle.

HINTS FOR ELOPING.
JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 26.—The "little" bus, which has invaded the matrimonial game, is now entering the matrimonial game. Oscar Gray, formerly justice of the peace, who has recently turned over his stand to two new justices, has bought an automobile and uses the matrimonial office as headquarters for his "itney" business. He uses the bus to carry sleepers, thereby providing the young people from Kentucky an extra thrill for their money.

'UPPER OFFICE' TO SLEEP ON JOB

Inspector's Bureau Adds a Neat Bed Chamber, Detailing Night Shift.

The "upper office" is to be formally and officially on the job all the time in the Oakland police department from now on. The "upper office" is the inspector's bureau, this being the police bureau set forth in the Oakland city charter for the detective department.

In the past there has been an interruption every night from midnight till 3 a. m., when the inspectors went home to bed. This this will not be the case any more. A nice little bed chamber, with pretty wall paper and a cello on the windows has been fitted up adjoining the inspectors' assembly room. Here two inspectors are to sleep at the city hall every night. The bed room contains two downy couches. Lots are being drawn every month as to who shall be given the night detail in the "brat chamber."

The increase in the police force has made possible the new "all night" detail of two inspectors. In case of a crime being committed during this watch, the investigation will not be made any longer by the uniformed police. The two inspectors will be aroused by a special bell, will arise, don their garments, revolvers and stars, and go forth to inspect.

COOKING BY GAS

Recent years have witnessed a wonderful development in gas-cooking appliances. We now have gas ranges of various types and capacities and with many refinements and accessories, all of which have been designed to meet, and are now taking care of, the cooking requirements of the smallest dwellings and largest residences.

The only cooking service to consider for a house that is heated, whether it be a cottage or a mansion, is a Gas Cooking Service, because it offers the best method of cooking, judged from the points of view of (1) Economy of Installation and Operation, (2) Labor Saving, (3) Cleanliness, (4) Convenience, (5) Satisfaction Service.

The best endorsement of cooking by gas exclusively is the fact that hundreds of thousands of people now use it exclusively for cooking, and find it the most satisfactory, as well as the most economical, of cooking services.

Your Present Piano in Exchange

¶ The Pianola is within the reach of every home. More and more it is being recognized as a necessity rather than a luxury. The Pianola brings to every member of the family the fascinating ability to personally create music, not just to listen to it.

¶ But so many people confuse the Pianola with other Player Pianos—they think of all Player Pianos as Pianolas. There is only one PIANOLA, the original Player Piano, the player made by the Aeolian Company.

¶ The Stroud Pianola at $575 certainly offers the most for the money in piano-quality and in player-capability. It is the lowest priced model of the genuine Pianola, although it has all the exclusive and wonderful features of the higher priced styles.

"Habra algo que supere á lo mejor?" [Is there anything better than the best?]

Suppose you laid upon a tobaccoist's counter one one-dollar bill. "Give me for this the best cigar you have," you say. He hands it to you—of what leaf! Assuredly the choicest that Cuba grows.

You ask for a Van Dyck. It is 15 cents or 2 for 25 cents. And now—what leaf have you? Again—Havana, chosen by the eye of a connoisseur, picked and "stripped" by fine-trained fingers.

I will tell you more. Your Van Dyck Cigar is made by the same type of Cuban workman, in just as fine a factory as the most expensive cigars.

The main difference is the little stretch of water between Havana and Tampa. Van Dyck Cigars are made in Tampa.

Well,—I myself gladly buy Van Dycks instead of any other brand, Cuban or of Florida.

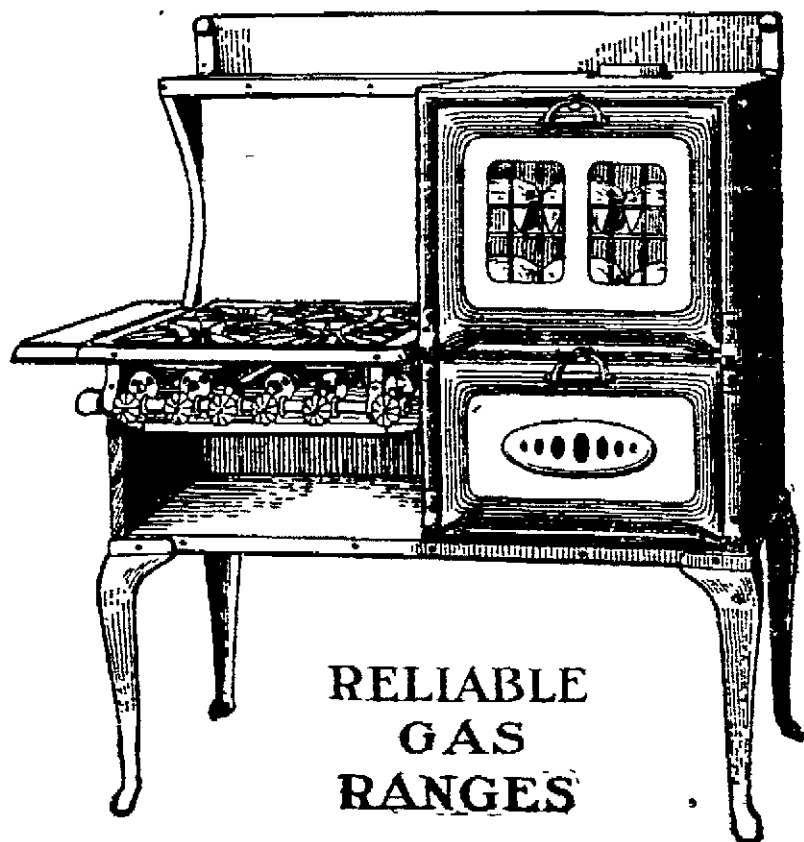

It is the leaf, the precious, bland full flavor which makes so warm a friend of me to that remarkable Van Dyck Cigar. Such a moderate price to sell it at!
